—A GREAT—

MASS MEETING OF LADIES AND GENTLEMEN

—OF—

LINCOLN AND THE ADJOINING COUNTIES,

—ESPECIALLY PURCHASERS OF—

DRY GOODS, CLOTHING, BOOTS AND SHOES,

—NOTIONS, &C., &C.,—

IS HEREWITH CALLED AT ONCE!

TO ASSEMBLE AT THE STORE OF

D. KLASS!

Opposite the Myers House, STANFORD, KY. The object of this called meeting is to argue, take into consideration and pass your vote in favor of D. KLASS' following Notions for this general meeting:—

1st. WHEREAS, I have bought a large stock of Spring Goods, but have not sold them out as quickly as I am generally doing, because the Spring forgot to make its appearance this year, and
2d. WHEREAS, It is my custom never to carry stock over from season to season, and that in order to sell this large stock of Clothing, Dry Goods, Boots, Shoes, &c., &c., in a short time I must make some sacrifice in prices, therefore be it
Resolved, And I have resolved that from this day on, or until further notice is given, every article in my store will be offered at an immense reduction and many goods BELOW COST. But I will do still better and make this liberal offer, to wit: It is further resolved that Every Customer Purchasing to the Amount of $10 will Receive a Very Fine, Large Oil Painting, Elegantly Framed, good enough for the Finest Parlor, and free of charge.

(These are no common chromos, but first-class Paintings.) Still better yet: And in order to give those a chance who may not need or not be able to buy $10 worth of goods at once, I will give the same chances, and allow every small purchase to be counted till the whole amount reaches the sum of $10. I want it distinctly understood that each painting given away is worth nearly the amount of your purchase.

The Prices on all My Goods are away Below all Competition, and especially so this season.

I MAKE THIS LIBERAL OFFER FOR TWO REASONS:

First, to Reduce my Immense Stock, and secondly to show my Appreciation in some way to the people for their kind patronage.

Don't buy 5 cents worth of Goods till you have Examined my Stock and Hear Prices.

Every One Should Attend the Great Mass Meeting at

 D. KLASS' STORE!

A SCENE ON MAIN STREET IN STANFORD, KENTUCKY:

THE LATEST NEWS!

BILL ZADICK TO TOMMY FIDDLESTICK, (both gentlemen of color.)

Tommy—"I say, Bill, where is you goin'?"

Bill—"I is going' right dar to Mr. D. Klass' store."

Tommy—"Bill, wa—what's de matter dar, I sees so many folks in d store?"

Bill—"Why, they say it is mass meetin' to-day."

Tommy—"A what, did you say?"

Bill—"Can't you understand plain English?—a meeting of mass—"

Tommy—"Well, I see. What is it all about, Bill?"

Bill—"Well, they say Mr. Klass is a selling his goods so cheap now that, between you and me and that lamp post yonder, it is not worth while to hook it, Tommy, and besides that he is now givin' every one that buys of him $10 worth of goods, no matter if at one time or in a dozen times, so you buy the amount of $10, he is givin' you and every one a fine, large oil painting, elegantly framed, for nothin'—mind you for nothin'.

Tommy—"For the Lord's sake, Bill, I must run home and tell that to Betsy. She is now saving up to buy a picture for our parlor, but now she gits it—an oil painting for nothin'.

Bill—"Yes, dat's so. You see dar is Jimmy Brown coming' out now with a new suit of clothes on and a large painting under his arm. Well, Tommy,

I is goin' dar—I must be one of the mass meeting', too.

Tommy—"All right, Bill, but I say dar is no use a talking, dat Klass' takes the cake sure enough."

Bill—"You are right, the whole bakery you might say; and I tell you he is doing the business of the town, because he sells very cheap and is a liberal fellow."

Tommy—"Well, Bill, I'll see you later; goood bye, I is goin' home and tell Betsy all about that mass meeting at D. KLASS' store, opposite the Myers House."

W. P. WALTON.

BECKY JONES is the unepithetous name of a maiden of doubtful age in New York, but she has gained more wide-spread notoriety in the last ten days than any of her sex in America, simply because she has been able to keep a secret and hold her tongue, a feat hitherto supposed to be impossible with persons of the feminine gender. She was for many years the trusted maid-servant of two old people who not only respected her, but confided in her as they did in no one else, and when these two old people died, remained as loyal to their memory as she had been faithful to them in life. These old people left a will and for the purpose of breaking it they want Becky to tell some things that would probably have that effect. But Becky won't and that's an end on it. She has now been in jail for over a week, charged with contempt of court in failing to answer questions propounded to her.

A GREAT many people have found their arms and legs in their way when in the company of ladies and seemed to be at a loss to know what to do with them. Horace Baldwin, of Wisconsin, was probably one of those unfortunate fellows during life for he was six feet seven inches tall, but in death the matter did not bother his nephews at all. No coffin could be found in the neighborhood long enough to accommodate the dead giant. So after trying in vain to force them into the large one obtainable, a handy saw was brought into play and the too long legs were reduced to the proper length. The nephews came near getting a mobbing however for their novel way of disposing of a difficult problem.

J. Q. WARD, of Cynthiana, is the only candidate so far for Superior Judge in Reid's district. This does not indicate however that Mr. Ward will be awarded the prize in a walk over. There will be a dozen contestants in the field before many moons wax and wane. LATER.—T. Turner, the dry, of Mt. Sterling, has eluded his captors into the ring. In his announcement he says: "I might not have been a candidate, but for the furious onslaught upon myself and Judge Riddell by the Frankfort correspondent of the Courier-Journal and the unscrupulous would be boss behind him."

SENATOR Ingalls from the Judiciary Committee has reported a proposed amendment to the constitution making the Presidential term of office six years, and the incumbent thereafter ineligible to the office. There are many arguments in favor of the proposition. The periods of political excitement would be further removed, the commercial world would not be so often disturbed and the President could serve his country with an eye single only to its good. Now his chief desire is to so cut his cards as to insure a re-election, as evidenced by the maneuvers of Mr. Arthur.

FIRST, the bank president, who is in jail at New York, for complicity with Ward & Grant in their gigantic swindle, produces a personal letter written by Gen. Grant himself in answer to an inquiry concerning the firm, under the date of July 6th, 1892, in which he says "that he believes investments with that firm are safe and that he is willing that Mr. Ward should derive what profit he can for the firm that the use of my name or influence will bring." This shows that he was in the whole spirit of the swindle and that he was working his name for all that it was worth.

THE democrats in Congress seem to think that turn about is only fair play and that following the example set by the g. o. p. are meeting their members in every contested election case. Wallace, democrat, has just been given the seat claimed by McKinley, from one of the Ohio districts, by a majority of 50. Joe Blackburn voted against and John D. White for Wallace.

THREE will be six Presidential tickets in the field this year unless there is a fusion. The anti-monopoly party has already nominated Ben Butler; the greenbackers are about to do so at Indianapolis; the republicans nominate next Tuesday at Chicago; the anti-masonic, in Chicago, June 19; democratic, in Chicago, July 8, and prohibition, in Pittsburgh, July 22.

Gov. KNOTT has reiterated his determination to pardon no gambler and if he sticks to his laudable purpose the State treasury will be the gainer by many thousands dollars. Gov. Blackburn remitted during the last year of his unfortunate reign $45,000 of such fines and several hundred thousand dollars worth during his term.

JUDGE HARGIS owns up that he is the person referred to in the interview charging Judge Riddell and others in inciting Cornelison to his dastardly act and says he proposes to show up every secret charge made in writing and scattered over the country against the memory of Judge Reid that he can get hold of.

THE republicans will show their hand at Chicago next Tuesday. The chances seem to be in Blaine's favor, but Arthur has a hundred thousand office-holders to back him and they will make a heap of noise. One thing seems certain, Lincoln will have a place on the ticket, it matters not who is nominated.

THE New York Sun is now engaged in naming Henry B. Payne, of Ohio, for the Presidency, but that paper is losing its grip on public confidence and that boom like the others it has endeavored to start for Holman, Flower and others will die aborning.

THE Senate Committee proposed the very excellent amendment to the sweeping Mexican Pension bill that no one shall be entitled to such pension unless he absolutely needs it for his support, but when the bill was called up this week by Gen. Williams, it was laid upon the table two to one. The bill is sure to become a law. And then look out for a similar one pensioning every body who was fifteen minutes in the army of the last war.

THE Rev. J. W. Ashbury, having been deposed from his church for accepting a position as whisky ganger, is it not about time the Rev. H. L. Ewell was being attended to? He measures whisky all the week and holds forth on Sunday. The Christian church should at least be as strict with its preachers as the colored Methodists are with theirs.

H. T. DUNCAN, editor of the Lexington Press, has been fined $200 for libel. The decision is an outrageous one if we understand the case properly.

—The people of Oak Creek, Wis., are excited because the relatives of Horace Baldwin, deceased, height six feet seven inches, sawed off his legs to make the corpse fit the coffin.

—The republican candidates seem to be narrowing down to Blaine and Arthur, with Grant and Cookling favoring Blaine as against Arthur, but not against a dark horse.

—The majority report of the Senate elections committee on the Danville riot declare that it was premeditated and preconcerted, for the purpose of intimidating the negroes.

—Representative Belford introduced a bill in the House, to appropriate $500,000 for the erection of a home for the disabled soldiers of the Confederate army at Fredericksburg, Va.

—Ex-Senator Sharon relates the story of his intimacy with Miss Hill as follows: He offered her $250 a month to live with him. She replied that it was not enough, when he increased the offer to $500, which she silently accepted.

—The Philadelphia Times says that the Arthur business meeting in New York seems to have been composed of one-tenth business men and nine-tenths office-holders and ward politicians. The nine-tenths, however, are the fellows who mean business.

—While playing in a flouring-mill at Elkhart, Ind., Jessie Heffner, aged fourteen, was caught in the shafting and had his arm torn from the socket. As he was hurled around his feet struck John Bartholomew on the forehead, fracturing his skull.

—The collections of internal revenue for the ten months of the fiscal year are $99,161,745, a decrease of $10,908,827, as compared with the corresponding period of the previous year. The principal decrease was on tobacco. There was an increase of $12,460,564 from spirits.

—A couple of Louisville fishermen were surprised Wednesday on pulling up their trot line to discover the body of a man hanging to one of the hooks and they dropped it in hot haste. Afterwards it was brought ashore and found to be that of John P. Ruff, of Baltimore, who had thrown himself into the river to end his days.

—Logan Powell, a negro man who works at Wakefield & Faris' stable, was found in a stall Wednesday night in a stupified condition and when taken out and partially aroused claimed to have been poisoned. A careful examination of the case by a physician, however, made it more than probable that Logan was only drunk. The greatest wonder is that he was not killed by the horse tramping on him.

—S. H. Mason, sheriff of Hancock county, Moses Hollington, marshal of Lewisport, J. H. Mills, of Cloverport; George Hunter, Marshall of Bardstown; G. T. Helm, marshal, and G. A. Peyton, police judge of Junction City, made an unsuccessful attempt Wednesday morning to capture Henry Wade alias Henry Smith, Henry Hamner alias Henry McGinnis and Nathan Tharpe charged with the murder and robbery of Loftus Burns, a bachelor Irishman, who lived in the edge of Bennettsville, Hancock county. The crime with which these men are charged is a horrible one, they, according to the confession of Mrs. Canby alias Marion C. Bay, one of the party, who has been convicted and given a life sentence in the penitentiary, having gone to Burns' house and murdered him while begging for his life, under the supposition that he had in his possession several hundred dollars in money. The crime was committed Friday, April 11th ult., and about one week afterwards Wade, Hamner and Tharpe made their way to the knobs near Junction City, where William Hamner, Henry Hamner's father, lives. There they have been lurking ever since feeling tolerably secure from capture owing to Hamner's thorough knowledge of the country. Marshall Hollington, of the party who attempted to make the arrest Wednesday morning, fired on the three fugitives as they were huddled together in a hollow at the foot of a knob and made them retreat in such haste that they dropped two coats and a heavily loaded shot gun. The sheriff's posse afterwards heard that Tharpe was wounded, but he and all the rest escaped and the pursuit was abandoned for the time. Mr. Chanley alias Marion Coffey, the man already arrested and convicted, is said to be from Boyle or Lincoln county. Henry Wade alias Henry Smith, is from Washington county and Henry Hamner alias Henry McGinnis was born and raised in this county near where he is now supposed to be hiding. He killed a negro named Simon Givens several years ago, but got off on the plea of self defense. He is quite young but has already made a bad record and his companions are of the same stripe.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—The Blaine men figure that he will get 389 votes on the first ballot.

W. H. TRAYLOR,

—AGENT FOR THE—

BONANZA GRAIN & FIELD SEED THRESHER.

—And the Most Perfectly Trained, for Lincoln and Grand Counties—

Read What Some of Our Best Farmers and Citizens of Lincoln and Garrard Say:

"We, the undersigned citizens of Lincoln and Garrard, do hereby state that we have had one wheel threshed with Robinson's Grain & Field Seed Thresher, and we give great credit for the work it did for us. It threshes fast, cleans and separates well, runs smooth and with ease, and with one man it can do the work of two. In conclusion, we say to those that expect to do much work of this kind that they can do better than to get the Bonanza Thresher and Engine. As sold by W. H. TRAYLOR, Stanford, Ky. See him and get prices before purchasing elsewhere. Signed: J. H. Givens, H. Buchanan, J. H. Miller, J. C. Linn, S. J. Emery, J. S. Emery, H. B. Ross, S. R. Dullander, Wm. T. Goss, Jordan Park, James I. Adams, Wm. A. Hunt, J. Hunt."

We advise what the farmers say in regard to the Bonanza Thresher and Engine, sold by Robinson & Co., Richmond, Indiana, and sold here by W. H. TRAYLOR, their Agent. We have bought and ground quite a lot of wheat threshed with the Bonanza Thresher, and it was splendidly successful and did not run up the use often we used. Signed: J. F. Garris, Buffalo Mills, Stanford, Ky. Mr. Alexander Miller, Lincoln Mills."

To those whom I have sold machinery I extend thanks for their patronage, and will say to those that expect to buy that I will take great pleasure in fitting you up with the above named machinery. We have everything in perfect working order. I have on hand a supply of polished matter which will be sent to any one addressing me at Stanford, Lincoln County, Ky. 24th Aug. Times very truly, W. H. TRAYLOR.

The largest stock ever in Stanford and the best to be found in Central Kentucky, embracing about twenty five different styles from the leading manufacturers in the United States. Persons contemplating buying a vehicle this Spring should select the same or place their orders at once; for at this season all manufacturers of first-class vehicles are invariably over-run with orders and if the vehicle wanted is not on hands, it will require from four to eight weeks to obtain it; four weeks being required to make, finish and dry a first-class job ready for shipment, under the most favorable circumstances.

All work sold by me will be found to be such as I represent them, unless I have been deceived myself, and in that event the purchaser will be fully indemnified. Call and examine my stock and I will do my best to please you in style, quality and price. You can get as good vehicles from me and at as reasonable prices as you can obtain anywhere else and get a guarantee on them, besides that is worthless to you when buying away from home. Respectfully,

GEO. D. WEAREN, Mfg's Agt., STANFORD, KY.

THE young gentlemen of Hustonville gave an elegant little hop at the Weatherford House, Wednesday night, which was largely attended by the boys of this place, who speak of it as a most delightful affair in every respect.

THE wife and children of Mr. Peter Shinn have received a legacy of about $2,000 from a relative of his in Switzerland and the money has already arrived. It comes in a most opportune time as they had recently lost everything by fire.

THE Superior Court has on the application of Col. G. W. Welch, withdrawn their opinion sustaining the decision of the Lincoln Circuit Court in the case of George W. Jaunce vs. Miss Jennie Buchanan and set the first Monday in October for argument.

BEGINNING tomorrow afternoon, the Kentucky Central will run regularly on Saturdays and Tuesdays a stock train direct to Covington, leaving Stanford Junction at 3 P. M. This will be a great thing for our stock men, who will thus be able to land their stock at the city in time for the morning markets.

It was as cold as Christmas yesterday morning but owing to the wind that prevailed all night, no frost fell, though vegetation has been known checked. LATER: This morning the hills and valleys are white with frost and if the gardeners do not have their work to do over, it will be a wonder. The wheat is probably unharmed.

THE question of lighting our streets with gasoline lamps is being agitated and it is hoped that the city council will improve the opportunity now offered by an agent here. For an outlay of $200, 25 lamps can be obtained that will give a light superior apparently to gas, and these lights can be maintained at 4 cents per lamp each night. It is almost impossible to feel your way through town in a dark night and when it can be lighted with so small an outlay, it should be done by all means.

COMMENCEMENT WEEK.—Beginning with Sunday on which day, the Rev. P. T. Hale will preach the Commencement sermon to the young ladies of Stanford Female College, at the Opera House, next week will be the gala week of the year. A concert of unusual interest will be given Tuesday night, the regular Commencement exercises on Wednesday night and on Friday night the Merry Bachelors will tip off the week's pleasures with a grand hop in honor of the visiting ladies. A very large time is expected all around.

THE "Moonlight Fete" at McKinnon last night, notwithstanding the extreme coolness of the weather, was a most enjoyable occasion. The Presbyterian church yard was brilliantly illuminated with Chinese lanterns, and presented a picture quite pleasing to lovers of the beautiful. The heavily laden tables were presided over with dignity by Misses Clara Bibb, Kittie and Annie Wray, Fannie McKinney, Mollie Owens and Mrs. Joe Hecker and Mrs. Walker. The amount taken in could not be accurately ascertained. A representative of the Interior Journal left at the hour of 12:15 A. M. but judging from the immense crowd, it must have been sufficient to repay the ladies of the church for their extraordinary outlay taken to make it a success. Stanford was well represented, but not as numerous as it should have been.

THE killing of F. J. Curran's fine setter has occasioned considerable excitement among the fanciers of the canine species, several of whom thought that the slayer should have been tried for murder in the first degree, instead of only a fineable offense. It was discovered that Solon Craig (don't jump reader, it is not the one you are thinking of, but a negro), had fired the fatal shot and he was accordingly arrested and lodged in jail. Yesterday before Judge Carson and a jury he was fined $25 for cruelty to animals and $5 for shooting on the streets. Mr. Craig claims that he is the victim of suborned testimony and that he is as innocent of killing the dog as the man in the moon, which he could have proved had his witness, Sam Embury, not got into a fight with a woman and run off to save his skin. He will pay his indebtedness to the community by remaining 30 days on the rack pole.

MARRIAGES.

—At the home of the bride in Lebanon, in the presence of a few relatives and friends, at 10 A. M., Wednesday, Dr. T. A. Bracken united in marriage Mr. H. M. Allen, a rising young business man of Cincinnati and Miss Bonnie Fogle. The attendants were Mr. William Allen and Miss Mattie Fogle; Mr. Edward Allen and Miss Ella McElroy. An elegant lunch followed and then the happy pair with the attendant and Misses Abe VanArsdale and Bessie Adams, Maj. J. S. Cooper and Mr. Barlow took the train via Junction City to Cincinnati. The bride is a winning little beauty, as lovely in character as she is in face and figure, accomplished and elegant in manners, and he who has won her deserves congratulations. They will take rooms at the Gibson House and will through life, we trust, be happier even than their imagination has pictured.

A few mountain cattle brought from 3 to 3 1/2 cents, work oxen $75 to $100, cows $35 to $50. Fifty or sixty plug horses brought from $35 to $75, a few good ones $100 to $140, mules at $90 to $130 owing to quality.
—At the Lexington Fair-grounds a trainer named William Kimball had in hand a stallion, Sherman's Handelmanian, and whipped him so severely that the horse threw the man, turned on him furiously, and attempted to crush him with his knees. Failing in this mode of torture, the stallion began tearing the prostrate trainer with his teeth, breaking an arm and leg, and taking large pieces of flesh from Kimball's breast and shoulder.

—No new cases of small-pox to report this issue.
—Mr. J. L. Whitehead has a white ground squirrel, stuffed, in his show case which attracts a great deal of attention.
—We are in receipt of an invitation to a Hop, to be given by the "Merry Bachelors" of Stanford, on Friday evening, June 6th.
—Wild strawberries have become a "drug" on the market at 25 to 30 cents per gallon. Such a crop was never known before.
—C. W. Garland and Miss Mina Rosa came up on the passenger train from Brodhead, Tuesday, got married and returned on the freight train.
—I am desirous of settling up my business and will call in person in a few days on those indebted to me for an immediate settlement. F. L. Thompson.
—We are reliably informed that the cars will be running on the K. C. railroad extension by the 1st of July. The E. T. V. & G. road will run over the L. & N., track to Livingston and then be transferred by the K. C. to Cincinnati.
—Several Ohioans have recently bought farms in this county. W. L. Henderson sold his farm to one of them for $1,200. L. M. Hawk sold his farm, for $3,500. H. G. Sutton sold one of his farms but we have been unable to learn the price.
—Mr. John W. Pulliam, of Warsaw, Ky., is visiting at this place. Mr. J. D. Chandler and Jeff Huffaker, two popular boot and shoe drummers, of Louisville, were in town during the week. W. O. Sweeney, of Lancaster, was here Tuesday, in the interest of his tobacco trade.
—The magistrates of this county met last Monday and received the Sheriff's delinquent list, about 500 delinquents and fixed the county levy at $1.75 per poll and the property tax at 25 cents on the hundred dollar worth of property. This is 5 cents more than it was last year on the property and 25 cents less on the poll.

PAINT LICK, GARRARD COUNTY.

—C. B. Englemann will have a soda fountain at his establishment soon.
—The people will be glad to know that our mill will be put into operation Monday.
—Savers & Bok, the renowned negro minstrels, gave an old-fashioned negro show at the City Hall Thursday night.
—Mr. Frank Cordier has sold his photograph instruments to Henry Lusk and purchased another outfit and will set up at Kirkaville.
—Mr. Charley Norcia had a mare that was in the habit of pulling back and breaking the bridle when she was hitched. He came to town Wednesday and hitched her with a strong rope; she began to pull and fell backward, breaking her skull and killing her instantly.
—Mr. R. G. Ward, a prominent druggist of East Bernstadt, accompanied by Miss Alice Ward, of Livingston, and Ellen Ward, of Crab Orchard, were the guests of Messrs. Ward and Lutes, Sunday. Miss Maggie Adams, a beautiful and accomplished little brunette, was the guest of Mrs. C. B. Englemann this week. Tyre Best left Tuesday for the lone star State.
—Our post-office will change hands in a short time. Mr. F. M. Lutes has lately been appointed P. M. and will be inaugurated soon. I don't know of any republican I would rather see get the appointment than Mr. Lutes. He is a nice, clever, accomplished gentleman and will discharge his duties faithfully and honorably. I am sorry that he will not hold the office after the November election for then some nice clever democrat will get the place.
—For Sale, a drug and grocery store in Paint Lick. I find that my business conflicts somewhat with my duties as railroad agent and it is the desire of the railroad company that all employees devote themselves exclusively to the service of the company. Consequently I offer my stock of drugs and groceries for sale. I have a nice line of goods and a No. 1 stand for the business. A good drug store is badly needed here and a good druggist can make money. Any one can get a bargain by addressing or calling on me at Paint Lick, Ky. C. B. Englemann.
—Mr. Geo. W. Pickett, Jr., and Miss America Bailey, this county, were married nine years ago. They lived happily together until the middle of last month, when Mrs. Pickett gave birth to a negro child. In talking with her husband about the child soon after its birth, she stated that she had been scared by a negro man which caused the child to be black. The husband believed his wife's story, and continued to live with her until last week, when his neighbors informed him that there was no doubt but the child was sired by a negro man living in the neighborhood. Mr. Pickett told his wife what his friends had said and she confessed her guilt. A suit for a divorce was filed last Friday, and it is said that the faithful wife has left the country.—Columbia Spectator.
